Foreign Affairs.

MADRID, May 20.

PEOPLE here are in great agitation on account of two ordinances which the government has lately publiſhed.—One of them annuls the pardons which the governors of ſome cities and provinces lately took upon them to grant on their own head, to the authors and fomenters of the tumults which have happened in different parts of the kingdom; declaring that they had no authority to grant theſe kind of pardons, which can only come from the King himſelf. [illegible] price of proviſions is likewiſe hereby reſtored, which thoſe governors had lowered in order to appeaſe the people; but the pardon which the King granted to the mutineers of this city, and the diminution of the price of proviſions here, being favours granted by his Majeſty, are confirmed.

The other ordinance directs, that all perſons here who have no viſible way of livelihood, the number of whom is very conſiderable, and likewiſe all eccleſiaſticks who are not employed in the way of their function here, muſt immediately quit this city.

Another event engages the attention of the public, which is, that moſt of the valets de chambre and cooks belonging to the King, the Queen Mother, and ſome noblemen, were taken up and ſent to priſon a few days ago; but upon what account is not known.

Copenhagen, May 16. The Baron Peter de Clauſſen, Colonel of foot, is appointed by his Majeſty, Governor-General of the iſlands of St. Croix, St. Thomas, and St. John, all in the Weſt-Indies.

Naples, May 20. The Duke de la Miranda, who accompanied the preſent King of Spain in his paſſage from this kingdom, is arrived here from Madrid; although he is a native of Spain, he has thought proper to retire from thence in theſe times of tumult, in order to enjoy tranquility in this capital.

Berlin, June 10. Sir Andrew Mitchel, who is a ſecond time appointed miniſter plenipotentiary from the King of Great-Britain to this court, arrived here the 7th inſtant.

Genoa, May 26. They write from Corſica, that the noble Giacomiri lately died there, and has left behind him immenſe riches, which he acquired in the Indies. By his will, which is a very remarkable one, he has left all his ready money and his cannon to his countrymen the Corſicans: His couſin, who is the only relation he had left, he has declared heir to all the reſt of his poſſeſſions; but upon this condition, that he ſhall always ſtand by Paoli's party, and that if Corſica ſhould ever become ſubject to the Genoeſe, he ſhall remove into Switzerland with all his effects.

Leghorn, May 31. Letters from Conſtantinople adviſe, that they are raiſing recruits as faſt as poſſible all over the Ottoman empire, by order of the Grand Signior.

The Marquis de Marboeuf ſeems diſpoſed to act offenſively againſt the malecontents of Corſica. We have advice, that he has demanded of the inhabitants a certain number of horſes to remount his cavalry, with menaces of military execution in caſe of refuſal. On the other hand, Paoli is preparing to face the enemy, with a full reſolution to maintain the independence of his country.

Genoa, May 25. They write from Madrid, that that capital and reſidence of the court is going to be reduced to a place of arms; that they have arreſted there and puniſhed a great number of thieves and vagabonds; that all ſorts of games are prohibited; and that publication hath been made in all the cities of Spain, that whoever ſhall be convicted of having entered into any plot to diſturb the public tranquility, ſhall be puniſhed, even with death, without hope of remiſſion.

Conſtantinople May 25. A violent ſhock of the earth happened here the 22d, in the morning. Several moſques, the mint, and other edifices were deſtroyed; the Seraglio received conſiderable damage, and a part of the quay was waſhed away by the agitation of the water. The Sultan is at preſent encamped in the gardens of the Seraglio, with all his court. In the ſuburb of Pera, only a few chimneys were thrown down. It is thought upwards of a thouſand perſons are buried under the ruins. Had the people been aſſembled at the baths or moſques, the number would have been much more conſiderable. The ground is not yet free from motion.

LONDON, June 10.

They write from Paris, that moſt of the accounts propagated concerning General Lally, are downright fictions, particularly thoſe which ſpeak of the people's being ready to riſe there, &c. It is true, indeed, that many of them think he has fallen a ſacrifice to court intrigue, and to cover the faults of others.

The report induſtriouſly ſpread of a coolneſs between Mr. Wilkes and a ſtaunch friend of his, is totally void of all truth, and only propagated, it is ſaid, to cover the ſhame and ingratitude of thoſe for whom he has made a bed of roſes, and who, to their eternal diſhonour, ſuffer him ſtill to lye on a bed of thorns, notwithſtanding all their promiſes to the contrary; and that the true reaſon of Mr. Wilkes's departure was owing to the advice of two eminent lawyers, after two long conſultations, on the Wedneſday night and Thurſday morning preceding his departure, at both which his friends attended.

A morning paper ſays, that Mr. P— on being ſolicited to take ſome part of the affairs of the adminiſtration upon him by a certain great man, who has an intention to reſign, made this reply.—"My Lord, theſe leges that I at preſent make ſhift to ſtand on, and the conſtitution of my poor country labour under the ſame infirmity, for they are both very unſound; it will be work enough for me in future to keep theſe in good plight; let ſtatues on firmer pedeſtals adminiſter phyſic to the other."

A few days ſince the workmen, who were making ſome repairs in Wincheſter college, diſcovered a monument in which was contained the body of Canute, King of England; it was remarkably freſh, had a wreath round the head, and ſeveral other ornaments of gold and ſilver bands, together with a ring on his finger, with a remarkable large fine ſtone in it; alſo in one of his hands was a ſilver penny.

JUNE 17.

It is ſaid that the real cauſe of a late reſignation was owing to the efforts made by the noble perſon, in behalf of an unfortunate exile, and which being unable to crown with ſucceſs, he choſe to reſign, rather than be connected with meaſures, which another took upon him to guide.

Part of a letter from Gibraltar of the 1ſt of May laſt:—"I find, on reading ſome news-papers, that the accounts of our ſtorm of the 30th of January laſt were greatly exaggerated: It was really ſhocking, and fifty perſons loſt their lives by it; but we have entirely got the better of it, as well as of our neighbour governor, who is diſmiſſed from his command. Our works, &c. by the vilgence of our governor, are not only in a condition of defence, but offence, if occaſion required."

Among the bills that received the royal aſſent laſt ſeſſion of parliament, there were no leſs than forty-eight for dividing and inclooſing of commons; and theſe moſtly in the northern counties.

Among the variety of natural productions brought from Scotland by a gentleman, is that of the Aboſtis, ſo well known to the ancients, by its duration after being tried in the fire. Although it is of the nature of a ſtone, yet, by a certain preparation, is diſſolved into ſomething like cotton, and may be wrought into a cloth. This gentleman, we are informed, has ſome of it made into paper, and has invented a red ink with which it may be wrote upon, and after being in the fire comes out pure and entire, but the letters are then of a black colour.

Upon which a motion was made to encreaſe the dividends 2 per cent. per annum, to commence at Chriſtmas next; but the directors being of opinion it would be more prudent to poſtpone it for the preſent, it was unanimouſly agreed to.

They were accompanied by Mr. Durand, who is to reſide here as Plenipotentiary during the abſence of Count de Guerchy, who is to ſet out on Wedneſday next for France.

Some time ago we were made to believe that the Manilla ranſom was in a fair way of being ſettled with the court of Madrid, but ſince the arrival of Lord Rochford from thence, it is reported, that that affair remains in the ſame unſettled ſtate, it has been for three years paſt. A little of Oliver Cromwell's ſpirit would have brought the haughty Dons to have done us juſtice long before this; but without it we may negociate to eternity, but ſhall never ſee one ſix-pence of that ranſom.

A letter relative to the new diſcovery, ſent by Mr. BOWEN, to the ſociety of arts, &c. in the Strand; with the reſolution of that ſociety, in conſequence thereof.

Gentlemen,

DURING near four years, whilſt I was priſoner in China, and had opportunities of obſerving the productions of that country, being carried 2000 miles from place to place, thro' the interior parts thereof, I took notice of many things, which I hoped might be of ſervice in my own country, if it ſhould pleaſe God to permit me ever to return to it. Amongſt the reſt I particularly took notice of a kind of powder in great eſteem there, as an occaſional diet, which I found to be the fine powder of Sago or China Salop, prepared for the uſe of travellers, both by land and ſea, which the Mandarins never travel without. At my return to England, I was fully perſuaded, that the vegetable which produced this powder in China, with which I made myſelf well acquainted, might be found in our American colonies; and with this view, I went over to his Majeſty's province of Georgia, where I was ſo lucky as to find it, and have therefrom manufactur'd ſome quantity; this has been ſeen and approved of by ſeveral phyſicians and other gentlemen, as that it would be of great ſervice in hoſpitals, the army, navy, in the African ſhips, and in all long voyages, being an excellent antiſcorbutic.

And where, in caſe of neceſſity, it would ſupply the want of other diet, and be of much ſervice to the ſick; the conſideration hereof I humbly ſubmit to this ſociety, with a letter from Dr. Fothergill: And am, Gentlemen, &c. S. BOWEN.

RESOLVED, That this Society, by letter from Dr. Fothergill; and alſo from the experiments made by their committee, have reaſon to believe, that the Sago and Vermicelli produced by Mr. Bowen, may be uſeful, as a cheap and ſalutary food, and may, under proper encouragement, become a conſiderable article of commerce, and therefore that Mr. Bowen is highly deſerving the encouragement of this Society.

Reſolved, That the better to encourage Mr. Bowen to proceed in the making theſe uſeful articles, the diſcovery of which in Britiſh America is owing to his obſervations in ſeveral parts of China, and his induſtrious application of thoſe obſervations in Georgia; the Society think proper to give their gold Medal to Mr. Bowen.

The annals of this country cannot produce such another instance of ministerial disinterestedness and public spirit, though France can boast her Duke of Sully, who, perhaps was the only minister, that has ever displayed the patriotic virtues of Mr. P—.

Mr. Love, of the Richmond theatre, has obtained the Lord Chamberlain's licence for his house, and is the only country-manager in England, who is honoured with that distinction.

A few days since died at Worcester Mr. Baker, by trade a baker, supposed to be a larger and more corpulent man than the late Edward Bright. His coffin measured seven feet over at the broadest part, was bigger than an ordinary hearse, and was so large that part of the wall of the house was obliged to be pulled down in order to get it out; it is supposed to be able to contain twenty bushels measure, and was carried to the grave by twenty stout men.

CHARLES-TOWN, September 8, 1766.

CAPTAIN John Leaycroft, who arrived here last Saturday from Jamaica, and left Kingston the 16th of August, gives us the following information, viz. That tho' the inhabitants of that island were very much alarmed with the shocks of an earthquake felt there in the night of the 11th of June, and on the sea quite across to Cuba, yet slight shocks had been so frequent since, at least twice or thrice every week, that they were now scarcely regarded.—That he heard frequent reports of an earthquake having done considerable damage at St. Jago de Cuba, but no particulars 'till three days before his departure, when he dined in company of the master of a Spanish vessel, lately from Cuba, who informed the company, that St. Jago was totally destroyed, not a brick or stone house left standing, and the Moro-Castle there levelled with the ground; that the shock was so violent & sudden, that near 5000 persons were buried in ruins or swallowed up, and the earth rolled like the swell of a sea. Capt. Leaycroft did not ask when this happened, but understood it to be on or about the 11th of June.—That when he came out of Kingston harbour (August 16th in the morning) he had the wind at W. to which a calm soon succeeded, and about 10 o' clock a severe storm, or hurricane, came on, and continued without abating till five in the afternoon, blowing from the E. N. E. which he supposes to have done considerable damage.—That on the 18th of August he spoke with a ship from the Bay of Honduras for London, in want of bread, but could not hear the vessel or master's name, or relieve her. On the 30th, spoke with a brig. from the same Bay, for Guernsey, George Collard, master, twelve leagues from the Metarzas, all well on board. Same day spoke with a snow from Jamaica for Liverpoole, John Hawkins, master, who left Kingston the 20th, and informed him, that tho' the hurricane which happened on the 16th had been very severe, yet no very considerable damage had been done thereby, except to a large sugar-loaded ship, which was drove ashore at Port Morant, and many small vessels wrecked in the ports and on the coast most exposed to the wind.—The 3d instant he saw a dismasted deep-loaded ship in the gulf, but did not speak with her.

Capt. Moncrieff, also arrived on Saturday from Jamaica, who left Kingston some days before Capt. Leaycroft, felt the hurricane on the 17th of August. He likewise saw the dismasted ship above-mentioned, twice, but she went well, and did not seem inclined to speak with him.

The weather continues remarkably favourable for our harvest; and we seem so little apprehensive of a hurricane, that the act prohibiting vessels lying at or near the wharves is totally disregarded.

The Anna-Theresa packet boat, Capt. Dyer, for Falmouth, sailed over the bar last Thursday.

The GRANTHAM packet boat, Capt. JOHN JONES, will sail for the same place, on Thursday the 18th instant.—A Bag for the reception of letters to go by said packet, is up at the GENERAL POST-OFFICE.

A SERMON

UPON

The Repeal of the STAMP-ACT,

PREACH'D

At SAVANNAH in GEORGIA, on the 25th of June, 1766.

By J. J. ZUBLY, V. D. M.

Brethren, ye have been called unto Liberty; only use not Liberty as an occasion to the Flesh.

But if ye bite and devour one another, take heed that ye be not consumed one of another.

TEXT. ZECHARIAH viii. 10, 11, 12.

For before these days there was no hire for man, nor any hire for beast; neither was there any peace to him that went out, or came in, because of the affliction: for I set all men every one against his neighbour. But now I will not be unto the residue of this people as in the former days, saith the LORD of hosts. For the seed shall be prosperous; the vine shall give her fruit, and the ground shall give her increase, and the heavens shall give their dew; and I will cause the remnant of this people to possess all these things.

☞ In this discourse, this new World is considered as under Divine Theocracy. And the justness of the author's comparisons of present with past events, with the elegance of thought, design and expression, render it worthy to be transmitted to Posterity.
